Judson Press Celebrates 50th Anniversary of Treasured Worship Resource with a New Edition

This revised edition seeks to provide today’s ministry leaders with diverse materials for planning worship services of all kinds, encouraging them always to adapt the resources to the particular context, needs, and lifestyles of their own congregations.

The New Manual of Worship features numerous updates and revisions, as well as 20 new services, which commemorate special days, seasons, or themes, significant ceremonial events in church life, and the day-to-day occasions of joys and sorrows in people’s lives. Featured in this edition are specific recommendations for themed or occasional worship music, from traditional hymns to contemporary praise songs, and a new section of practical advice for planning an integrated and inspired worship service.

Perfect for new and seasoned ministers, worship leaders, and seminarians, this comprehensive and practical guide is adaptable for churches in various traditions and with various worship styles. As a bonus, it features information about additional online resources.

Clergy who have used this manual proclaim, “It’s a great resource for when you need a little help planning a special worship service…. It is just the right size to carry around with you.” And another stated, “…wonderful guidance with enough choices of Scripture that it is perfect for planning various services.”

NANCY E. HALL, MDiv, DMin, is Associate Professor of Ministry and Congregational Music and Director of Contextual Education at American Baptist Seminary of the West in Berkeley, California.
